AIR Programs Fall 08 Schedule

The AIR Program would like to welcome you to our “Voices of Tomorrow” Project. This project continues our traditional program principals with the introduction of a film project in which the student will participate within.

Our theme for this semester is examination of professions while overcoming our fears. Our goal, is to have the students learn about various professions derived through higher education and overcoming the fears in pursuit of higher education.

In all our expectations are that the students will become familiar with higher education through being on campus, workshops, leaning about differing profession derived from higher ed. and our mentoring process.

Overall, we find that we will have an exciting and fun semester and look forward in seeing all our participating students.

AIR Program Mission

"Our mission is the promotion and success of American Indians within education."

The American Indian Recruitment (AIR) Program has been established with the ideals of promoting higher education in the American Indian community. To successfully achieve such an ideal the AIR Program is dedicated towards the successful completion of high school for our student participants. The AIR Program, therefore, offers supplemental educational instruction through tutoring, mentoring, and various activities designed to achieve success within high school and higher education. The program provides high school students an opportunity to adjust to campus and academic life before attending the university.

Although Indians have gained ground in many areas they still remain behind the rest of American society. The AIR Program firmly believes in our mission statement and hopes to bring greater successes to those who are disadvantaged within our community.

November 18:      Location: SDSU                      Room: 245 (Storm Hall)
Time: 4:30 pm to 6:30 pm

Tutoring: Have you brought your homework? If you did then we have something for you...

Introductions: Brief introductions

Workshop: What is a degree?

Workshop explains what a degree is and how to achieve one. This will be your first exposure to higher education and its approach.

How to Develop a Newscast

We will all have video cameras and will learn the basic format of our Newscast approach to the remaining program.

November 25:      Location: Old Town                      Room: Old Town
Time: 4:30 pm to 6:30 pm

This meeting is all about overcoming your fears. We have fears in all directions, some we have mentioned previously when talking to teachers, or even in meeting new friends. Communication and overcoming fears are the keys to success. Therefore, what is the greatest fear, probably scaling a wall and covering a height that when you look down you say "I'm scared". If you can overcome this then you can relate this back to everyday life and overcome any fear.

Rock Climbing: at SDSU or Rock Gym

December 2:      Location: USD                      Room: UC 107
Time: 4:30 pm - 6:30 pm

Tutorial-Remember to bring that homework, grades are important!

Introductions: A quick go around to get familiar with each other.

A view of all our presentations (news) that we have done throughout the semester.

Awards
